

Name: Russ Allan C. Getubig
Course: / Yr.: / Section: BSIT 4: 3

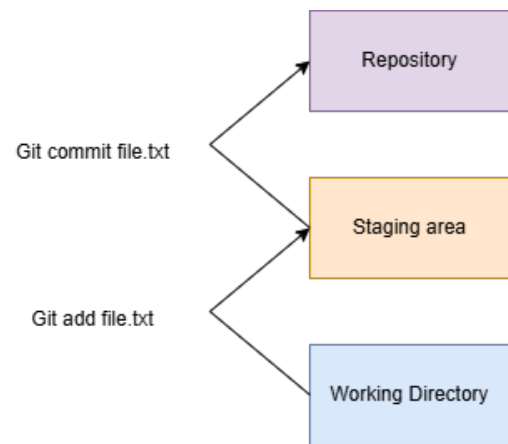

Student no: 202306258
Date:

ONLINE ACTIVITY #1

Linux commands:

1. `pwd` - display the full path of the current directory.
2. `mkdir` - creating folders.
3. `cd` - change the current directory.
4. `rmdir` - delete empty directories.
5. `cat` - display the contents of the file.
6. `cp` - copy files or directory.
7. `mv` - move files
8. `rm` - deletes file permanently.
9. `ls` - list of files in current directory.
10. `locate` - find file using database.

The three-tree architecture of Git

GitHub Commands:

1. `$ git push` - upload the changes.
2. `$ git pull` - updates you current branch with all new commit.
3. `$ git reset --hard [commit]` - preserving changes locally.
4. `$ git switch -c [branch-name]` - create a new branch.
5. `$ git merge [branch]` - Switches to the specified branch and updates the working directory.
6. `$ git branch -d [branch-name]` -delete the branch.
7. `$ git log - follow [file]` -list version history for the current branch.
8. `$ git add [file]` - content changes of specified commit
9. `$ git commit -m "[descriptive message]"` - record of what you did.
10. `$ git log` - Browse and inspect the evolution of project files.

References:

<https://www.geeksforgeeks.org/linux-unix/basic-linux-commands/>
<https://training.github.com/downloads/github-git-cheat-sheet/>
Designveloper – for the three-tree architecture of Git